
Riding to Salt Lake City

Posted by Neil Sexton - 2010/08/01 20:07

Taking a ride late Sept. to Salt Lake City for a software confrence. Leaving the I55 and I294 area Friday Mon the 17th. Stops along the way are open for discussion. Last year I spent a night in Steamboat Springs, Co and ran 2 lane roads into Salt Lake (great ride). I was even considering an iron a$$ ride to Denver. Anyone riding that way want a partner for the hole trip or for a part???

Let me know. Will be returning Thur Sept 23rd. Let me know.

Neil,

Enrollment at my riding school is down this year, mirroring the economy and a flat motorcycle market. I may be available for a ride west in late September. From I business point of view I hope not, but from the riding perspective it's be great. I'll check back with you as the time grows closer. Larry
